

Leonora Beatty

3664 Raymundo Rue Dallas TX Phone +1 (555) 802 2852

Experience

Phoenix, AZ

Turcotte, Effertz and Rath

- Knowledge of computer applications (Microsoft Office), including dietary management computer applications (CBORD) and computerized charting applications
- Establishes and maintains effective working relationships with other facility departments to provide a unified approach to patient/resident care
- Establishes education programs for facility's professional staff (Nursing, pharmacy, medical and surgical residents)
- Maintains professional continuing education annually
- Drive patient satisfaction and maintain client relationships through rounding
- Work closely with management team to develop holiday menu for patients while being conscious of standard production constraints
- Drives patient satisfaction and maintains client relationships through rounding

Dallas, TX

Kautzer, Schinner and Becker

- Leverage H&W scientific networks to build a foundation for possible advisory council and/or consultancy
- Propose opportunities for improvement; influence stakeholders to drive execution
- Demonstrate constructive discontent; Question when things can be done better and identify improvement areas
- Proactively provide subject-matter expertise to the BU on emerging and on-going Health and Nutrition scientific issues as well as H&W linked consumer trends to facilitate business initiatives and promote product and company trust
- Represent the company in H&W and also provide Strategic Leadership and Expertise to BU in the areas of nutrition and Health & Wellbeing working collaboratively with Internal (SRA community, R&D, Live Positively, Marketing, Legal, PAC and Bottler) and external (trade, industry, regulators, academia, opinion leaders, researchers, NGOs, professional and scientific organisations) stakeholders
- To have ownership of development of long – term expert / health vision for the brand portfolio and brand communications ensuring synergy with Coca-Cola's commercial strategy - 10%
- Provide scientific leadership and advice to brand communications teams in health and nutrition to impact business strategy, brand reputation and drive the business agenda - 20 %

Houston, TX

Vandervort-Shields

present

- Works closely with the Business Unit Manager in developing plans and financial forecasts
- Provides leadership and makes recommendations on assigned Nutrition business projects working collaboratively with cross functional partners
- Works closely with the Business Unit Manager in the process of launching new product and/or service initiatives

- Marketing program development
- Seeks and implements process improvements as it relates to their product portfolio
- Supports the execution of P5 plans by leading the process for development and approval of marketing materials for the Nutrition product portfolio
- Works with various stakeholders across Baxter (e.g. Regulatory, Legal) and external suppliers

Education

Bachelor's Degree in Nutrition

Illinois State University

Skills

- Demonstrates the knowledge necessary to discuss and promote basic, healthy eating behaviors
- Strong communication skills: oral, written, and presentation, plus the ability to communicate with a wide range of people and behavior styles
- Basic typing and computer skills, and knowledge of Microsoft Word, PowerPoint, Excel, and Publisher
- Proficient in Microsoft Office
- Ability to manage and prioritize time and projects in an efficient manner
- Strong organizational skills
- Excellent verbal communication skills and necessary business acumen
- Strong leadership skills
- Ability to work independently and complete assignments in a timely manner
- Ability to be a part of multiple projects and initiatives of varying size and complexity, while meeting conflicting deadlines in a diverse challenging environment